

Welcome New Staff

South Nassau has named Jonathan Cy Floyd, R.N., nurse manager of the ambulatory surgery unit.

Jonathan Cy Floyd, R.N.

Mr. Floyd has an extensive background in critical care nursing and has worked in hospital emergency departments and intensive care, coronary care and cardiothoracic units. He previously served as the house supervisor at Little Falls Hospital in upstate New York.

For 10 years, Mr. Floyd was a travel nurse for Sunbelt Staffing Solutions and MedStaff, Inc., and worked exclusively in critical care in several prestigious hospitals, including Duke University Medical Center and the University of Pittsburgh Medical Center, where he served in the bone marrow/stem cell transplant intensive care unit and liver transplant intensive care unit, respectively.

He earned bachelor's degrees in nursing and psychology from the Medical University of South Carolina in Charleston, S.C., and Francis Marion University in Florence, S.C., respectively.

Movin' On Up

South Nassau has named Colleen Beirne, R.N., to the newly created position of director of nursing quality.

Colleen Beirne, R.N.

In her new role, she will help improve and promote nursing quality and standards and patient satisfaction.

Previously, she served as the director of nursing for cardiac services and provided oversight for several initiatives, including the launching and accreditation by the Intersocietal Commission for Accreditation of Echocardiography for the Center for Cardiovascular Health. She was also instrumental in attaining South Nassau's designation by New York State as one of the first hospitals in the region to perform elective angioplasty in a center that does not perform open heart surgery.

Ms. Beirne has 25 years of broad-ranging experience in critical care nursing and nursing administration. She earned a bachelor's degree in nursing from Molloy College.

South Nassau has promoted Nancy Campisi from scheduling registrar in account services to assistant supervisor of radiology for scheduling and registration.

Nancy Campisi

Ms. Campisi, whose career spans more than 20 years at South Nassau, has worked in the hospital's outpatient billing in the ambulatory surgery unit, admitting, emergency department registration and radiology.

In addition, she serves as an advocate for patient care services as an interpreter. Ms. Campisi is also a certified EKG technologist.

South Nassau has promoted Juliet Navo, R.N., from assistant nurse manager to nurse manager of the cardiac care unit.

Juliet Navo, R.N.

Ms. Navo began her career at South Nassau as a staff nurse in 2005, serving in the coronary care and intensive care units.

Prior to joining the staff, she worked in California and Connecticut, where she was a supervising R.N., at the Country Manor Health Center in Waterbury. From 2001 to 2005, she worked at Brunswick Hospital in Amityville as a critical care nurse.

Ms. Navo earned a bachelor's degree in nursing in the Philippines.

South Nassau has promoted Michael Terushkin to assistant director of engineering.

Michael Terushkin

Mr. Terushkin began his career at South Nassau in 2005 as engineer aid and by 2007, he was promoted to engineer.

In his role, he is responsible for supervising the day-to-day operations of the department, which includes ensuring the safety of the work environment and preventive maintenance of the building.

He earned a bachelor's degree in engineering in his native Belarus. He is a member of the Hospital Engineering Society of Greater New York.
